Project Idea

Reason for application	Littering dirties our streets and damages our environment. Work with a 12 year veteran environmentalist and a professional developer to use currently available open source data to create predictive models for litter and trash pollution. Two full-time
CS - Current Solution	Our team of two have built a custom architecture for the backend of the website that employs a build script to build the website each time we modify it. The website will be a very powerful tool and a prominent website in the quest for tackling environmental pollution and trash debris.
CS - Who are users?	The users are broad and vast. The amount of data and usability of the website will attract many people. The overlays on mapping api, will make the website beautiful and interactive. A prominent TikTok account with 400k followers will promote the website as well to boost its usage.
CS - Software Access Point	Web browser (desktop); Web browser (mobile)
Other Access Point
CS - Additional Constraints	We will be using open OSM data, Rest API, and more. Java, Python.
CS - Concerns with student ownership?	No, I do not have concerns.
CS - Describe Concerns
CS - Protected health information?	No.
Additional information	A brief introduction to data-science using Open Street Maps can be found at https://m.youtube.com/watch?v=WmCLQCohL3k our project will be similar to this.
